Deposition - RUPERTO PENA, July 21, 1964, 11 H 364-7
Questioner: Liebeler

FBI Special Agent Richard E. Logan acted as interpreter. He is still a Cuban citizen. He works with his brother in his brother's bar. Ruperto was not at the bar at the time of the lemonade incident. He discussed it afterward with Rodriguez but not with his brother. He said he had never seen Oswald in person. He also got Bringuier to call the FBI when he had complaints about people he thought might be pro-Castro, according to the context. This is not made specific, but it seems clear (p.365). Pena says of his own politics, "I am more or less pro-Batista".

On p.367 when asked if it is correct as Bringuier is quoted as having said, that Ruperto saw one of the two Mexicans who had been involved in a minor altercation at the bar, also "when Oswald was there", he said, "I never told Bringuier that". He had already testified and he repeats that he wasn't in the bar at the time Oswald wss.

In connection with Bringuier, Orest Pena, on a number of occasions, alleges that Bringuier hated the United States as much as he hated Russia and challenged the Commission to have him take a lie detector test as he, Pena, would do. Bringuier, according to the index of witnesses in the report, testified one time, 10-H-32 ff., Apri. 7-8, 1964, which was prior to the appearance of Pena.

Deposition - RUPERTO PENA, July 21, 1964, 11 H 364-7

Questioner: Liebeler

FBI Special Agent Richard E. Logan acted as interpreter. He is still a Cuban citizen. He works with his brother in his brother's bar. Ruperto was not at the bar at the time of the lemonade incident. He discussed it afterward with Rodriguez but not with his brother. He said he had never seen Oswald in person. He also got Bringuier to call the FBI when he had complaints about people he thought might be pro-Castro, according to the context. This is not made specific, but it seems clear (p.365). Pena says of his own politics, "I am more or less pro-Batista".

On p.367 when asked if it is correct as Bringuier is quoted as having said, that Ruperto saw one of the two Mexicans who had been involved in a minor altercation at the bar, also "when Oswald was there", he said, "I never told Bringuier that". He had already testified and he repeats that he wasn't in the bar at the time Oswald was.

In connection with Bringuier, Orest Pena, on a number of occasions, alleges that Bringuier hated the United States as much as he hated Russia and challenged the Commission to have him take a lie detector test as he, Pena, would do. Bringuier, according to the index of witnesses in the report, testified one time, 10-H-32 ff., Apri. 7-8, 1964, which was prior to the appearance of Pena.